CALLED TO PHOENIX

(From Thursday's Daily.) Mrs. Fred L. Shipman, who accompanied her husband from Telluride, Colorado, to this city last week, left for Phoenix yesterday, receiving advice of her husband being ill with influenza, the attack being mild. Mr. Shipman was to appear before the State Corporation Commission on legal business covering his prospective purchase of a group of mines in Big Bug district.

AGREEABLY DISAPPOINTED

(From Friday's Daily.) Thomas L. Haines, of Albuquerque who read in a home newspaper of a mine accident at Miami, in which a miner named Haines had been killed, is in the city en route to Jerome to visit with a brother, after learning that the Miami victim was not related to him. The visitor states that the Jerome brother contemplated leaving for the south for the winter, hence the news of the death occasioned him to proceed at once to Miami. Mr. Haines is an electrician and resided in this city in 1899, when employed by the old Prescott Electric Co.

YAVAPAI COUNTY IS WINNER OF HONOR HUT

PHOENIX, Nov. 21. — Arizona's final figures for the United War Work campaign which closed last evening will not be far from 250 per cent of the old quota allotted the state by the New York headquarters. That is, the old quota has been doubly subscribed and 50 per cent has been added thereto for good measure.

The state campaign managers feel that Arizona has done its best, and if any other state in the final accounting is found in first place it at least had to "go some."

Official figures last evening, with several counties to hear from and no complete returns from any county, showed $581,615 already reported. New York is carrying the Arizona quota at the old figures given out early last summer. Based upon that old quota, Arizona now has 243 per cent and over. Delaware 24 hours ago had 232 per cent.

It seems probable that when all returns are in Arizona will have passed $590,000 and possibly reached $600,000. One thing is practically certain and that is that two honor huts with the most advanced arm of the American army abroad will bear the name of "Arizona" as the result of what the people of the Baby State have done for the United War Work campaign.

One of these huts is already earned because Arizona was one of the first, if not the very first state to cross the line of the minimum mark, and the first 11 states to accomplish this are each to have honor huts named after them. The second honor hut comes, if, in the final figures, Arizona is found to be among the 11 states which farthest passed their minimum quota.

Yavapai and Gila Win. Final figures will be needed to show what four counties in Arizona will have honor trucks named after them. The four counties in the state which, corporation gifts not included, farthest pass their minimum quotas will be awarded these honors. Yavapai county is certain to be one of these and Gila is sure to be a second.

Maricopa county's total is $93,288, which includes corporation gifts of $7,000. For the purpose of the honor truck competition, Maricopa has a total of $86,288, which is 144 per cent of her minimum quota, one of the best showings made in the state. The grand totals of all counties, including last evening reports, were: Apache, $3,465; Cochise, $106,000; Coconino, $16,000; Gila, $102,307; Graham, $11,000; Greenlee, $48,580; Maricopa, $93,288; Mohave, $6,566; Navajo, $11,350; Pima, $50,569; Pinal, $52,518; Santa Cruz, $10,317; Yavapai, $90,000; Yuma, $10,325.

No reports from Apache, Navajo, Santa Cruz or Yuma had been received up to a late hour last evening. When these counties report, the total may be raised considerably.

Work of the Boys and Girls. Up to last evening reports show that 7,402 boys and girls have enrolled in the Victory Boys' and Girls' league. Their total pledges amount to $27,383. Of the number stated 3,479 are boys who had pledged $11,760 and 3,923 are girls who have pledged $15,623.

COPPER AT 28c

BOSTON, Nov. 21. — The inquiry of the French government sent to the War Industries Board for 200,000 tons of copper carried with it an agreement to pay 28 cents a pound for a certain portion of this order for quick delivery. The balance was bought at 26 cents a pound, under agreement between the board and the copper producers. However no more than 26 cents a pound can be accepted.

FOOD CONTROLLER RESIGNS

LONDON, Nov. 22. — John R. Clynes, the British food controller, it is understood, has resigned.

INFLUENZA ADDS TWO MORE TO ITS LONG TOLL

MRS. MARTIN TESTORA AND DANIEL GUTHRIE SUCCUMB TO THE RAVAGES OF THE DISEASE NOW RAMPANT HERE.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Mrs. Martin Testora, who was well-known in this community, where she had resided for many years, has passed away from influenza, the end coming on Thursday morning at 1:45 o'clock. The youngest child of Mr. Testora is also seriously ill with this malady, and hope for the recovery of the little sufferer hangs by a delicate thread. Mrs. Testora was truly an estimable woman, faithful as a wife and devoted to her home and her children.

Daniel Guthrie, a young man of about 21 years of age, employed by the telephone company in the combination department, died yesterday morning from influenza, after a short illness. He was highly regarded by his employers and personally was of a fine fellowship, having many friends in this community. He has a brother, Mike Guthrie, in military service at Fort Whipple, who has been given a furlough to take the remains to Texas for burial in the family plot.

LEMONS LEAVES ON IMPORTANT MISSION

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The close of the European war will be of untold benefit to mines and mining in this field, and the projected smelter of the Anglo-Saxon Mining and Reduction Co., will be realized, was the frank statement made yesterday by George G. Lemons, who left for London, England, where he is called by financiers who are to become interested.

Mr. Lemons also stated that he had been compelled to remain in the United States during hostilities, and since the war has been permitted to make only one trip abroad, and that during the time when this nation was neutral. He gave the following interview, which will be of very much interest in this community:

"During the past week my London associates advised me that the Anglo-Saxon matters have been revived, and requested me to report in person for a general review of the proposition. This action means this: The funds held during the war for internal purposes, are to be released for investment anywhere, and to clean up this financial snag is probable the reason why I am wanted for final consultation. It is indeed decidedly agreeable to me to know that the war is over, that early action is probable in carrying out plans submitted four years ago in this mining and reduction undertaking for the Prescott field. There is now no doubt of the consummation of this big movement, and my options on many mines near Prescott have been renewed."

Mr. Lemons also stated he had been "hiding out" in Prescott for the past year, perfecting an invention for raising sunken ships, and his plant would be utilized in recovering the Lusitania in which he would be interested, the Celtic Trust Company, of London, having been awarded the contract by the English government. This huge undertaking will begin probably early in the coming year, and the salvage will reach to over $100,000,000 in gold and cargo carried. "On this occasion," said Mr. Lemons, "I will have two Prescott girls to touch the button to start the machinery moving, and they are the Misses Vera and Helena Voge. They are to come over there as guests of Mrs. Lemons. Concluding Mr. Lemons stated that plans and specifications of the Prescott smelter are preserved, and the mining investment feature of the company will be passed on finally by engineers of this country, England and South Africa. He expects to return to reside here after all details are closed up. "But, said he, "the financial situation is what pleases me, and the proposition to my way of reasoning it out, by cablegrams I have received recently, is of a conclusive nature that the day has at last arrived for early and favorable action."

Mr. Lemons has been given a permit to go abroad at once, and until ocean traffic is resumed his wife is to reside at San Francisco, for which city she left yesterday.

BIG RANGE WORK

(From Thursday's Daily.)

G. C. Ruffner arrived yesterday from Coburn Brothers' Horseshoe Ranch, east of Mayer, where he is constructing three large water storage dams on the range, for watering livestock, and reports good headway being made. The contract is to be completed by next February. Two other dams are now in use, and when the three other storages are ready this range will have adequate facilities for caring for a large number of cattle.

FLU NEARLY STAMPED OUT AT FORT WHIPPLE

(From Saturday's Daily.) There are but 17 cases of influenza among the men at Fort Whipple and no new cases have manifested themselves during the past eight days, according to an announcement made last night by Commandant Col. C. E. Holmberg. The situation at the post, so far as the flu is concerned, is the best that it has been since the time of the original outbreak of the disease and were it not for the fact that the flu is raging among the local civilian population, the quarantine, which has been effective at the post for more than six weeks past, would be lifted at once.

During the past weeks, the influenza victims at Whipple have numbered as high as 75 or 80 at a time, but due to the untiring work of the highly trained corps of army doctors connected with the hospital, the disease has been all but stamped out, and a recurrence of the alarming conditions among the enlisted men is not anticipated by the commanding officer. There have been perhaps twelve men who have died at the post as a result of the epidemic, but considering the large number of men now stationed there, the low death rate is really remarkable and attests to the good work done by the physicians and nurses there.

Yavapai Alone Has Raised Stamp Quota

PHOENIX, Nov. 23.—Arizona is about two and a quarter millions short of its Thrift Stamp quota for the year, according to latest figures compiled at state headquarters for the War Savings Stamp campaign in this state. The figures for November are not yet available, of course, but it is realized that there is a tremendous task before all the patriotic people of Arizona if the state is not to fail in this campaign. If failure comes it will be the first patriotic campaign since the war started in which Arizona has not met all requirements and more. Yavapai is the only county in the state which is up to its quota.

Maricopa county, for a long time in first place has dropped into fourth position and all over the state there has been a slackening of the work because of the patriotic campaigns which have taken place in the past two months. Now that they are finished particular attention will be paid to the everpresent work of selling Thrift Stamp to the patriotic people of the Baby State.

FALSE ARREST CAUSE OF BIG DAMAGE SUIT

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Alleging that his reputation and standing in the community had been greatly damaged by reason of a false arrest which was brought about by the defendants in Prescott last August, Leslie Shaver yesterday filed suit in the Superior court against A. L. Garford of Elyria, Ohio, and his local manager, L. N. Butler, asking for damages in the sum of $20,300. The complaint sets forth the fact that Garford and Butler caused the arrest of the plaintiff on August 6, 1918, on a charge of grand larceny. Shaver was subsequently taken before Justice of the Peace McLane and held to the Superior court under a bond of $3,000 and in the interim was confined in the county jail here for a period of 24 hours. On November 1, the complaint continues, the charges which had been filed against Shaver were dismissed upon motion of the county attorney, and the bondsmen relieved of further responsibility.

The plaintiff in the present action was for a time in the employ of Garford, the latter having extensive mining interests in this county. Last summer, it is alleged, a number of the employees of Garford became engaged in certain transactions which resulted in the arrest of at least two of them on charges of selling mine machinery and equipment belonging to Garford and embezzling the proceeds of the sales. It later developed that there was not a sufficient amount of direct evidence to connect Shaver with any of the alleged fraudulent transactions, and the dismissal of the charges came about several weeks ago. Shaver asks for punitive damages in the sum of $20,000 and a special judgment of $300 to cover his costs in fighting the action which had been instituted by Garford and Butler.

SAYS IT'S A FAKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23. — Frederick W. Henshaw, former justice of the California supreme court, today issued a statement to the Associated Press denying the charges that he received a bribe of $40,000 in the famous will case of the James G. Farr estate, also denying any connection with the alleged "frame-up" in the San Francisco Preparedness Day Mooney bomb case, as set forth in a report to Secretary of Labor Wilson over the signature of John B. Lennimore, district general of employment of the labor department.

BAN IS LIFTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Regulations limiting the amount of bituminous coal stored by consumers were lifted today by Fuel Administrator Garfield in conformity with the cancellation by the war industries board of its preference list. Any industry or domestic consumer now may store all the bituminous coal desired.

JONES J. BISHOP KILLED IN FALL FROM HORSE

PROMINENT SELIGMAN CATTLE GROWER GETS FATAL TUMBLE WHILE RIDING THE RANGE NEAR ANVIL ROCK.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Jones J. Bishop of Seligman, one of the most prominent and best known cattlemen in the northern part of the State was killed by being thrown from his horse while riding the range yesterday afternoon, death having been almost instantaneous. Bishop, who was about 45 years of age, had extensive holdings of both land and cattle in the Anvil Rock section at what was known as New Water.

Deceased is survived by his widow and one little girl. A brother is also a resident of the Seligman country. The remains will be taken to Phoenix on Monday for interment.

YANKEES ARE GREAT SOUVENIR COLLECTORS

WITH THE AMERICAN OCCUPATIONAL FORCES, Nov. 20.—Nearly every Yankee doughboy at the front has become a boche souvenir hunter and has annexed a quantity of excess baggage that in some cases is appalling.

The first impulse of a German soldier who decides to retreat or to surrender seems to be to get rid of his steel helmet, beautifully or weirdly camouflaged as it may be. In any column of prisoners to be seen on any road behind the American lines, not over five in any hundred are still wearing their helmets. All have donned the soft slouch cap that so detracts from their soldierly appearance.

The helmets are dropped, thrown away in haste, and all but clutter up the battlefield. Nearly every American soldier who has been fighting at the front either has a German helmet by now, or has sent one home. For under a new ruling by general headquarters it is now possible to paste a home address on a German helmet, drop the headgear into the mail box and send it to mother, sister or sweetheart. Just how many have gone home, ostensibly as the personal booty of the sender, it would be hard to say.

Many of the helmets are interesting to say the least. Many boche soldiers have in their idle hours painted and camouflaged their head pieces until they have a weirdly odd appearance. The German helmet has vasty more surface space than the American, the British or the French. It has protection for the ears and neck in the shape of a rim or extension, so that quite a little picture can be drawn on it.

The most popular camouflage is a series of two-inch stripes that meet at the top of the helmet and extend, like the ribs of a fan, outward and downward to the edges of the hat. In other cases the entire surface space is painted into squares of yellow, green and gray, or in all the colors of the rainbow. The composite effect is startling. These are the most coveted of all souvenir helmets, and the doughboy who has not the opportunity of finding one on the battlefield gladly gives a sack of tobacco for one.

Shoulder straps make another interesting and easily portable souvenir, though they are also of a distinct military value because they help to identify the units that have been opposed to the Americans. Yet there are enough for this purpose and to spare, and they are eagerly sought by the soldier who does not care to be burdened with a heavy helmet in addition to his own.

SNOW IS FALLING

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Stevenson, who arrived yesterday afternoon from Beaver creek, reported a heavy snow storm on the Mogollon mountains, the first of the season. Mrs. Stevenson is to place on canvas Montezuma's Castle, and when finished the work will be of the dimensions of 6x9 feet. It is to be presented to the Historical Society of the State of New York, probably next June.

SUDDENLY ILL

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Mrs. Abbott E. Purman, while traveling homeward from Pueblo, Colorado, to Los Angeles, was suddenly taken ill on a Santa Fe train, while going into Ash Fork, and later brought to this city with symptoms of the flu. The affliction fully developed the following day and she is at a local sanatorium, her condition yesterday being favorable for recovery. She is the wife of a prominent merchant of Los Angeles, who is expected to arrive this morning.

GRANT SUCCEEDS SMITH

SALT LAKE, Nov. 23.—Herbert J. Grant was unanimously selected as president of the Mormon church to succeed the late Joseph F. Smith at a meeting of the council of the 12 apostles held in the famous Mormon temple.

COLTER IN MANLY LETTER OFFERS HIS CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR NEXT GOVERNOR

Phoenix, Arizona,
November 21, 1918

Hon. Thos. E. Campbell,
Fleming Bldg., Phoenix, Arizona

My dear Mr. Campbell:

The official returns from the boards of supervisors of the various counties as published in the press would indicate that on November 5th you were elected to the high office of governor of the State of Arizona. If these returns are certified as correct by the secretary of state, as I assume they will be, I take pleasure in congratulating you most heartily upon your election.

In my entire public career I have tried to be unselfish in working for the best interests of Arizona regardless of politics or personal feeling, and my one desire at the present time is that in this great era of reconstruction and post-war activities every impetus be given to the real progress of Arizona. In assuring you that it is always my desire to co-operate in everything that is for real betterment of Arizona, I am sure that I am also voicing the sentiments of those who so unselfishly assisted me in the campaign.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) FRED T. COLTER.

Phoenix, Arizona,
November 21, 1918.

Hon. Fred T. Colter,
North Central Avenue,
Phoenix, Arizona.

My dear Senator Colter:—

Your good favor of even date, delivered by messenger, tendering your hearty congratulations upon my election to the office of governor, just received.

In acknowledging same I wish to express my sincere thanks to you for the unselfish and manly sentiments expressed therein, and I want to at this time accept your co-operation and help for a real betterment of the present conditions of affairs in our beloved and native state. To the same end I dedicate my whole service. Assuring you of my high personal regard and esteem I am cordially and sincerely,

(Signed) THOS. E. CAMPBELL.

VOTE YES ON ALL THE AMENDMENTS BUT NO. 100

(From Friday's Daily.)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 21.—From complete official returns compiled today, it is believed that every measure submitted to the people of the state at the polls Nov. 5th under the initiative or referendum passed except the workmen's compensation act. Practically no campaign for the passage of any of these measures was made except in the case of the compensation act. The Arizona Labor Journal is charging that a million dollars was spent in an effort to pass this act. While this of course is absurd, it is known that a considerable sum was spent. In past elections, the people made it a rule to play safe and vote "no" on initiative and referendum measures. This year they seem to have changed the rule.

INFLUENZA VICTIM

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Frank Clark, usually known as "Senator" Clark, for many years employed by the city as a teamster, was found dead on Wednesday morning at the city stables near the Santa Fe tracks, Clark having died from the effects of the influenza which malady he contracted a few days ago. He was alone at the time of his death. He had been receiving treatment from a local physician, but nobody knew that his life was in danger. No funeral arrangements have been made at the present time.

EPIDEMIC ENDS WORK

(From Friday's Daily.)

Mrs. Jewell Banta who is engaged in the Americanization work in the public schools is the guest of Mrs. J. R. Lowry. She comes here from Jerome, her duties terminating there on account of the closing of the schools by the epidemic.

MARK FERGUSON DEAD

(From Saturday's Daily.)

After an illness of ten days from influenza the end came to Mark Ferguson on Thursday night at his home on West Aubrey street. The deceased was city gauger of weights and measures, an office which he creditably filled. Previously he had been chief engineer of the city at the Del Rio pumping plant, where he met with an accident, losing his left hand. In all business transactions the deceased enjoyed an exemplary name, while personally his excellent fellowship made him many warm friends in this community. He was aged about 38 years and leaves a widow and two lovely young children, a boy and girl.

BADLY INJURED

(From Friday's Daily.)

"Yuma Mike," as he is familiarly known, a sub-chief of the Yuma Apache Indians, was brought to the city yesterday from Skull valley with his left hand crushed to pieces by a threshing machine. He was feeding the apparatus at the time when his arm was dragged in, stopping the grinders. The accident is attributed to his lack of knowledge of the process in use. He is at Mercy hospital under treatment, and it is quite probable the arm will be amputated.

BUYING SUPPLIES

(From Friday's Daily.)

F. L. Cressworth, mining near Bumblebee, is in the city buying supplies, and states quite a number of mining engineers are looking over the country, gold investments being their mission. He also states that near the old Richbar mine a company has entered and is erecting four buildings, and will churn drill a large area. The manager, Mr. Brawins, is on the ground and states a large line of preliminary exploration is to be given before a central point is selected for practical operations.
